

How to find your Google review link

This takes about 1 minute. You only need to do it once.

Why this matters: Your QR card only works if it has your review link. The right link opens a box where customers tap the stars and write a review. Get this part right and your card does the rest.

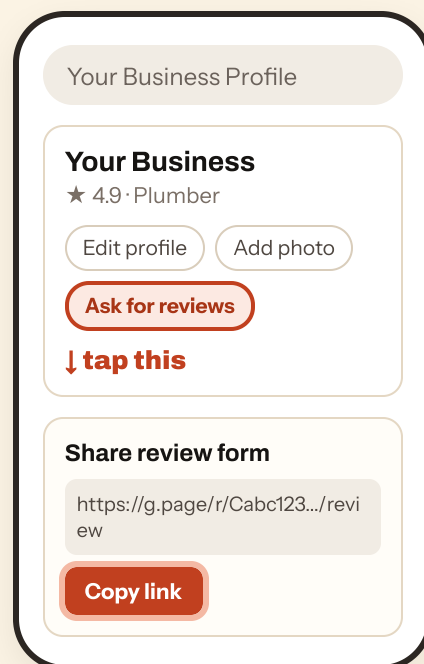

Before you start: Sign in with the Google account that owns or manages your business on Google.

WAY 1 · ON YOUR PHONE

Use the Google Maps app

1. Open the Google Maps app.
2. Tap your profile picture in the top corner.
3. Tap Your Business Profile.
4. Find the button that says Ask for reviews (sometimes it says Get more reviews). You may need to swipe through the row of buttons.
5. Tap Copy link.

Google moves buttons around sometimes. If you don't see it, try Way 2.

WAY 2 · ON A COMPUTER OR PHONE

Use Google Search

1. Go to google.com.
2. Type your exact business name and search.
3. A box about your business shows up. This is the owner view, so you'll see buttons to manage it.
4. Click Ask for reviews (or Read reviews, then Get more reviews).
5. Click Copy next to the link.

Paste it into the card maker

1. Go back to the card maker and paste the link into the Google review link box.
2. Tap Test link. A Google page should open with stars to tap and a box to write a review.
3. If you see the stars, you're done. Download your card.

Is it the right link?

✓ Good: it starts with `https://g.page/r/` or `https://search.google.com/local/writereview`, and testing it opens the stars.

✗ Not this: your website address, your Facebook page, or a plain Google Maps link that just shows where you are. Those won't open the review box.

Stuck? We'll find it for you, free. Email your business name and city to daniel@leadframedigital.com and we'll send your review link back.
